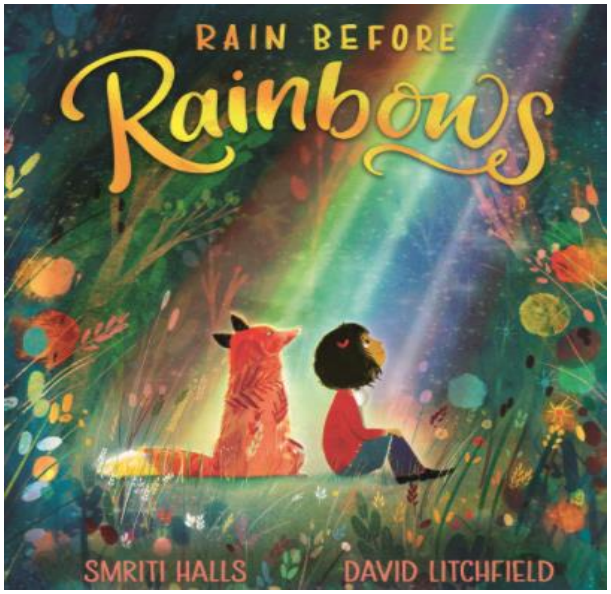
A poem inspired by Rain without Rainbow by Jenelle Y6

Cold before Warmth

Places to explore

And things you've never seen before



Challenges to accomplish

Dreams before reality

Decisions to make

Your heart may break

But joy will always come

Scared before brave

Going over waves

Fighting off dragons

They're calling out your name

You get to shore, you make a friend

You fall asleep, they carry you along

All the way to where the sun was born

The day goes on

We walk through the meadow

We dance about under trees

And the sun puts us at ease

The night falls

We fall asleep

We wake up under the sun

Whilst the birds fly

Our hearts dance with the butterflies
